1 SolarRain tastes great! It's smooth and silky, and is ocean sourced so it doesn't take away from the diminishing freshwater or municipal resources.

2 It's made locally for absolute freshness! Being native to San Diego, SolarRain supports our local community and helps reduce our carbon footprint.

3 By using solar thermal energy (a clean & renewable energy) to purify its water, SolarRain reduces emissions of CO₂ into our atmosphere.

4 SolarRain comes in a biodegradable bottle, an innovation that considers lifestyle and the future wellness of our environment. And it's BPA free!
